

Fire-Chaser

She chases the sunset,
embers flickering in a sky of flames.

Sparks rise in the ashes of her heart,
setting the world ablaze with light.

It shines outward,
bold, bright and resilient—
echoing a path for any who dare to follow.

Singed footsteps left carved into a molten hot gravel,
trailing in her wake.

By: Hannah Goertemiller